

OUTLINES.

At three of Russia's great sea-fortresses the troops revolted and bloody battles ensued with loyal troops, the casualties being several hundred killed and many wounded. In an Atlanta suburb, Floyd Carmichael, a negro who assaulted Miss Annie Poole, aged 15, was shot to death in her presence as soon as she identified him. President Roosevelt has contributed a dollar to the Republican Congressional campaign fund and says the plan is "admirable," yesterday he discussed the situation in Ohio with Senator Dick, who assured him that the Buckeye State will endorse the administration and stand pat. At the motor vehicle meet in the White Mountains yesterday, a big machine climbed a hill 3 1/4 miles at a speed of a mile in less than 52 seconds. At the meeting of the Negro Young Peoples' Christian and Educational Society in Washington yesterday, Bishop Gaines said the race since freedom, forty-one years ago has accumulated two billions of property and 50 per cent. can read and write; he inveighed against separate car laws and declared that the negro's avowed enemies are Tillman, Davis, Vardaman, Thomas Dixon and John Temple Graves. Roger Sullivan, Democratic National Committeeman, of Illinois, declines to resign at the request of William J. Bryan, who says he holds the position by fraud. At the army maneuvers at Chickamauga, South Carolina has one company organized in 1775 and another in 1780. The Pennsylvania Railroad has reduced its passenger rate from 3 1/4 and 3 cents per mile to 2 1/4 and hereafter 1,000 mile tickets will be sold at 2 cents a mile, which will involve a readjustment of fares from the South. On Monday night the battleships Illinois and Alabama were damaged in a collision off Newport. New York Markets: Money on call easy, 2 to 2 1/4 per cent, ruling rate 2 1/4, closing bid 2, offered at 2 1/4; spot cotton quiet, 10.90; flour barely steady and quiet; wheat easy, No. 2 red 74 elevator afloat; corn easy, No. 2, 56 1/2 elevator; oats easy, mixed 38 1/4; turpentine firm; rosin steady, strained, common to good, $3.95.

John D. Rockefeller says he is not worth one third as much as people believe he is worth. That's where we've got the bulge on Mr. Rockefeller. We are worth three times as much as people think we are not worth.

If this meets the eye of one Mr. William Henry Allen he is hereby notified that a woman is on his trail. She came over from England a few days ago and narrates that he deserted her 25 years ago.

The Columbia Record says Senator Tillman is not a member of any church. Perhaps he feels like he just couldn't obey the church rules when there are so many things to be cursed out and somebody's got to do it.

The Czar dissolved the Douma and is going to put down reform with his army. The Republican party heretofore put down reform by subscriptions from corporations but is now going to try it with dollar subscriptions from the people. It's all right if they don't get a $50,000 subscription from a trust and credit up on the book to 50,000 dummies.

Says the Washington Post: "The Chicago divorce records are being examined to find out why so many people are divorced. There ought to be some way of finding out why they were ever married." Perhaps when they find out "why" some people won't be able to conceal their wonder why the divorce record isn't larger.

The Republican campaign committee being somewhat ashamed to hand around the hat to the insurance companies for the $25,000 and $50,000 wads of yore, is now calling on the people for $1 subscriptions. Having worked the people with its high protective tariff for the benefit of the Big Ikes, the G. O. P. knows about the size of the campaign subscriptions they are able to pay.

Just as soon as Congress adjourned Chairman Tawney, of the House Committee on Appropriations, Uncle Joe Cannon and President apologized for Congress by saying it was a good one. They made that allegation for fear that the people had noticed the failure of Congress to do things that it should have done and did what it did do because it was cornered and had to do something.

A VIOLENT ATTACK

Capt. T. M. Morse, Navigating Officer of Naval Brigade Set Upon by Three.

AT MOREHEAD CITY HOTEL

Three Strangers Offended By His Manner of Handling Government Boat. Viciously Attacked Him in Lobby—His Return Home.

News has reached the city of an outrageous assault committed by three men upon Capt. T. M. Morse, navigating officer of the steamer Compton, upon which the North Carolina Naval Brigade is on its annual cruise this week with headquarters at Morehead City. The assault occurred in the lobby of the Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead, at 3 o'clock Monday morning and is described as an affair the end of which is not yet. Capt. Morse was terribly beaten about the face, his clothes were torn from him and he was otherwise badly treated by the men, whose names are said to be C. F. Pumphrey, of Newbern, Tom Brogden, a traveling man of Trenton, Jones county, and Dock Chamberlain with the electric light company at Morehead.

According to the report the men became offended at Capt. Morse while the latter was bringing the steamer Compton in one day last week at the railroad pier. The steamer was being swung with the tide and in doing so, the boat interfered with the three men and some ladies who were just coming out of the dock. The men are said to have shouted to the navigating officer at the time that they would see him later, but Capt. Morse paid no attention to the matter and had thought nothing more of the incident until he started to retire Monday morning and was accosted by one of the men, who applied a vile epithet to him and said "there he is now." With that one of them dealt him a staggering blow and the others pitched in like fiends. It is said that finally they used chairs on the navigating officer, tearing his shirt from him and offering insult to his uniform. Capt. Morse is said to have sought the protection of the hotel clerk behind the desk and though there were a number of attaches of the hotel about the lobby, not one of them rendered assistance. The three men are said to have been young and vigorous while Capt. Morse is a man old enough for the father of them.

Capt. Morse returned to the city Monday night and yesterday consulted his attorneys as to what could be done in the matter. While he is indignant that he was given no protection by the hotel people and may proceed civilly against the management, he seems more anxious to get redress upon those responsible for the actual assault, and further developments are awaited. He was up yesterday but showed no ill effects from the encounter other than a very bad eye.

Governor Glenn was at Morehead at the time and has instructed Commander T. C. Daniels, of the Naval Brigade, to take the matter up at once with the Mayor of Morehead City and see that the offenders are punished under the criminal laws of the town.

The hotel clerk, who is an old man says that during the fight Capt. Morse ran in at the side door of the office with the men after him, some having hold of him and pulling him back and that it was impossible to give any protection; that six or eight men were outside in the lobby and did nothing till the fight was over and Capt. Morse was left on the floor.

A telephone message from Newbern last night at 11 o'clock stated that a report was current there that Capt. Morse had come to Wilmington and entered a hospital and that the injuries received in the attack at Morehead had resulted fatally. The Star was glad to inform the inquirer that such was not the case and that while Capt. Morse was pretty badly used up, he was able to be out. Newbern was asked for any developments in the case at Morehead City but nothing could be learned at the office of the Newbern Journal.

BEFORE THE MAYOR

Colored Domestic Who Robbed Her Employer and Got in Jail—Usual Cases of Small Infractions of Law Yesterday.

The most interesting case in the Mayor's court yesterday was one in which Mary Wright, a colored domestic, was charged with the larceny of a large amount of clothing belonging to Mrs. H. H. Merritt, by whom she was formerly employed. Soon after the goods were mislaid Mr. Merritt had a search warrant served at the house where the colored woman lived and the goods were all found in her possession. Some of them she actually had on and was the "Belle of Brooklyn" when the officer called time on her and sent her down to the police station where she confessed everything and took her medicine, which was a commitment to jail in default of $25 bond.

Mary Williams and Mabel Mills, dusky games of darktown, were charged with engaging in an affray at Fifth and Nixon night before last. Officer C. G. Jones made the arrest and the evidence was bang up. They were each taxed with $5 and costs.

Henderson Hayes made his stentch appearance for being drunk and down. The Mayor said there was no use in doing more than make him pay the cost of running the court and he was taxed with $2.35 for which Sergeant Burnett became his surety and sent him out to his farm to work.

Spencer Hart, a young negro, was up for fleecing a colored excursionist out of a pocket book containing a small amount of money. No case could be made out and Spencer was discharged.

TWENTY PER CENT. INCREASE.

Postoffice Receipts For July Show Substantial Gains.

The receipts at the Wilmington postoffice for the month of July just ended were $6,905.79 against $5,751.59 the corresponding month last year. The increase is $1,154.20, which is an increase of twenty per cent. The showing is very gratifying indeed and augurs well for the showing for the quarter of which the past was the first month.

Royal Arcanum Claim.

Mr. Phil H. Busbee, an attorney of Raleigh, was here yesterday looking into the death claim of the late young Mr. Sherman, a member of the Royal Arcanum, who committed suicide up the A. & Y. railroad several months ago, the particulars of which are well remembered in connection with the long search for the missing young man, who mysteriously disappeared from his home in this city. It seems that there are conditions on which suicide claims are paid and Mr. Busbee was here yesterday looking into the circumstances of the death for the Supreme Lodge. Mr. Busbee conferred with Regent W. P. Monroe, of Cornelius Harnett Council, and others with reference to the matter and will later make a recommendation to the Supreme Lodge as to the payment or rejection of the claim.

Chartered For Cargo Here.

Capt. Will L. Miller, of the Acme Tea Chest Company, is advised that the British steamer Gretevale, 2,009 tons, Capt. Edward Spearf, has been chartered for a cargo from this port. She is now at Cardenas, Cuba, and will sail in a few days for New York, coming to Wilmington from the latter port, arriving here about August 20th. Capt. Spearf is very pleasantly remembered here and has many warm personal friends among the leading people of the city. His coming again will be hailed with delight by many.

Mr. Boney's Brother Dead.

Friends of Mr. G. J. Boney will regret to know of his recent bereavement in the death of his brother, Mr. W. P. Boney, of Wallace, N. C. Mr. Boney was summoned from the Congressional Convention at Fayetteville on account of the critical illness of his brother and could not reach his bedside before he passed away. The deceased Mr. Boney resided here until ten or twelve years ago and has a great many friends here who will hear of his demise with regret. He leaves a wife and four children.

PURE WATER SUPPLY

Chairman Johnson Calls for Bids for Six Artesian Public Wells in City.

ANALYSIS BY STATE CHEMIST

Excellent for Drinking Purposes—President of Clarendon Company Invited to Make Proposition to Sell Plant to Municipality.

The Water Commission of the city is still at work on the question of a pure water supply for Wilmington and is not only directing its efforts to the municipal ownership proposition respecting the plant, but is also at work on the matter of a system of driven wells, similar to that in the City Hall yard, until the greater improvement is undertaken. Elsewhere in to-day's paper Chairman Johnson, of the Committee on Water Works of the Board of Aldermen, advertises for bids for the sinking of six tubular wells in different parts of the city as were recently authorized by the Board of Aldermen, and agreed to by the Board of Audit and Finance except as to the contract price. By calling for the bids Chairman Johnson hopes to get an offer to sink the wells within the appropriation available. Proposals will be received until noon, August 6th.

In this connection it will be of interest to know that State Chemist B. W. Kilgore has just completed an analysis of a sample of the City Hall water forwarded to him by the Water Works Committee and it is pronounced from a chemical point of view, very safe drinking water. The analysis in detail is as follows:

Total solid matter in solution and suspension, 10.83 grains per U. S. Gallon.

Hardness, 8.6 degrees Clarke's scale. Equivalent to calcium carbonate, 7.9 grains per U. S. Gallon.

Chlorine, 0.68 grains per U. S. Gallon.

Free Ammonia, .001 parts per million.

Albuminoid Ammonia, 0.01 parts per million.

Nitrogen as Nitrates, 0.05 parts per million.

Water from the City Hall pump has been a godsend to the people all over town, who send for it by the hundreds of gallons daily, with no appreciable diminution of the supply. It is hauled away in buckets, bottles and barrels, on drays, carts, wagons and not a few come down on the cars with receptacles after the health-giving "agua." Money could not be better invested than by sinking these wells in every section of the city where the water would be available to the inhabitants of the town.

The Municipal Proposition.

The municipal water works proposition will not come up again until the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night. Chairman Johnson, of the Water Commission, has addressed a letter to Capt. Jno. F. Divine, president of the Clarendon Water Works Company, inviting him to set a price on the plant in the event the city should desire to buy and suggesting that, if agreeable, the Water Commission would be very glad to have a conference with him before making report to the Board Monday night. As yet nothing has been heard from the communication.

FOR TREASURE-TROVE

"Money Diggers" at Work For Hidden Wealth Around Smith's Creek Bridge—Officers Overhauled Colored Assistants.

Stories of hidden treasure out in the neighborhood of Smith's Creek bridge have been afloat in sections of the city for some time and it is an actual fact that not a few have been out there at night in diligent search of the hidden wealth. Search of this kind possesses a peculiar charm for a great many people and according to reports there are many who have been engaged industriously at night for some weeks, with the aid of "divining rods" and the like.

Monday night while Officers Ben Reeves and Mart Jones were patrolling their beat on MacRae street about 11:30 o'clock they came upon two negroes heavily laden with picks, new shovels, spades and a lot of other instruments, hurrying northward. The officers had visions of the robbery of a hardware store and at an opportune time halted the negroes who were nearly frightened out of their wits, not that they were suspected of larceny, but that they had heard that it was against the law to "dig for money" and it was upon such an errand that they were hastening. The handles of the implements were carefully wrapped with cloth to avoid noise while in use, as secrecy is regarded as one of the prime assets of a "money digger," and the colored men upon being hailed by the officers felt no hesitancy in saying that they had been employed by two white men to dig for the Smith Creek treasure and that their employers were then on their way out in a buggy. No amount of persuasion could induce the darkeys to give the names of the white men, but their story bore the stamp of sincerity. Besides one of them was actually entrusted with the "divining rod," which he explained was carried to and fro over the land and that when the spot where the buried treasure is secreted, one end of it would deflect. The "divining rods" are said to be sold to gullible Southerners by dealers all over the North and according to reports many of them are being used around Wilmington. The Smith's Creek section is said to be in holes for an acre or more where the "money diggers" have been at work and not long ago an old colored woman lodged complaint at the police station that white men came in her yard at night and dug up all her flowers. According to the superstitious thousands of dollars in gold were buried when the war was on and much of the treasure was never looked for again by the owners. By means of these "divining rods" not a few intelligent people have been led to believe that the presence of this money in the earth can be detected and the instruments are said to be possessed by a great many white as well as colored people in Wilmington. Old and superstitious colored people give out a legend about old "Marse So-and-So" and immediately the "money digger" gets busy. The Smith's Creek situation is said to be becoming real interesting.

A Malicious Prosecution.

In order to vent her spleen upon Ella Mitchell, in a fit of jealousy, Mary Smith, colored, yesterday buried a sugar bowl belonging to herself and proceeded to Justice Bornemann's court and swore out a warrant for the Mitchell woman, charging her with the theft of the piece of tableware. The woman was arrested and brought into court, the mother of the Smith woman being summoned as a witness for the State. At the last minute the mother refused to testify for her daughter and told the story of how the woman had buried the sugar bowl and charged her rival with the larceny of it. Justice Bornemann very properly taxed the prosecutrix with the costs and threatened to warrant her for perjury.

Mr. W. W. Holladay Transferred.

Mr. Holladay went from Wilmington to a position on the Second Division at Savannah, was later transferred to a position on the new Third Division at Jacksonville, Fla., and is now back at the general headquarters of the system in this city, where he has a host of friends.

FROM AUGUST 14-18 INCLUSIVE

Joint Committee Named and Organized for Making All Arrangements. Features Will Include Usual Side Trips.

The Odd Fellows of Wilmington are already making arrangements to entertain the children from the I. O. O. F. The invitation has already been extended; it has been accepted with gladness by the children and they are coming with full ranks.

At a meeting of the Joint Orphans' Outing Committee, composed of three members from each of the four lodges in the city, last night, an organization was effected by the election of Mr. M. W. TOM PIVER IN THE TOILS.

Charged With Snatching Roll of Bills From Brunswick Man.

Tom Piver, a well known young white man of the city, gave the officers a lively run for their money, or rather for somebody else's money yesterday morning and early in the afternoon. W. H. Gore, a Brunswick county man, came to the city and sold a lot of cattle, receiving something over $80 for the lot. He charges that while in a saloon near the wharf he had a roll of bills in his hand and that Tom Piver snatched the money from him and ran. Mr. Gore reported the matter to Justice Furlong and Constable Savage was soon on the chase for the fugitive, keeping straight behind him several hours in the southern part of the city. But Piver was too elusive and was not arrested until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He was pointed out to Officer C. G. Jones in a saloon in the northern part of the city and was at once sent down. He denies the theft in toto and says that the Brunswick man was drunk and didn't know what he was talking when he charged him with the theft. Piver had no money on him when arrested. The case will be heard in the Mayor's court to-day at noon.

SYRIAN DIED YESTERDAY.

A. H. Boufarrah Prominent Member of Colony in Wilmington.

A. H. Boufarrah, a leading member of the Syrian colony in Wilmington, died yesterday morning about 8 o'clock at his home in the alley leading by the Front street market house. His death was due to cirrhosis of the liver. Boufarrah was born in Hammana, Mt. Lebanon, Syria, and was 42 years of age. He had lived in Wilmington a year or more and was in business here. He leaves a wife and several children.

The funeral will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon from St. Thomas' Catholic church and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

SQUARE DEAL FOR WOMEN.

As was to be expected as a matter of course, the Norfolk Landmark rings clear and true on the question of better pay for school teachers. Furthermore our gallant Norfolk contemporary rightly condemns the unjustifiable discrimination against women teachers. Says the Landmark:

"By the existing graduated scale of pay in the public schools of Norfolk, great injustice is done the women teachers. When this scale was adopted, the Landmark protested against the undue discrimination against the women. Another effort is to be made in the near future to get the School Board to remedy, to some extent, the injustice done the majority of the teachers by the present arrangement; and we think that the public is heartily in favor of the petitioners.

"Male teachers now receive $1,000 a year on entering the service of the public schools of Norfolk. The next year they receive an increase of $50, for each year thereafter they receive an increase of $100 until they reach $1,450, and the year after that they receive $50, making their final salary $1,500—the maximum for men. Women teachers start at $400 and receive an increase of $25 a year until the salary reaches $650—the maximum for women.

"In other words, men teachers in Norfolk's public schools get $1,000 at the start and after six years are paid at the rate of $1,500 a year; while women teachers begin at $400 and, after ten years get $650 a year, when the increase stops. The women's minimum salary is twelve-thirtieths of the men's minimum salary; the women's maximum salary is thirteen-thirtieths of the men's maximum salary; and the men reach their maximum in six years whereas the women have to wait ten!

"It would be a modest step towards justice for the School Board to revise the schedule of pay so as to give the women half as much as the men. It is a shame that the city should not provide more equitably for the compensation of the women who are entrusted largely with the molding of the characters and improvement of the minds of so many future citizens. The task of teaching and disciplining half a hundred children for nearly ten months every year is an exceedingly difficult one. Women stenographers who are no more competent in their work than is the average woman teacher in hers receive far better pay. Nobody has any more wearing and responsible work than the school teacher. We are not paying the men teachers in Norfolk too much; we are paying the women too little. Look to the matter, gentlemen of the school Board."

Surely that Norfolk school board ought to revise that schedule of pay. There isn't any reason or justice in any such discrimination in Virginia or North Carolina or anywhere else. The Star stands for the square deal for women in the school room, in the business house, behind the counter or in whatever position she is willing to work to support herself. All things being equal in capacity, efficiency and experience, a woman should get just as good pay as a man. Where is our boasted gallantry when we are willing to pay a woman half what we would pay to man with no better and frequently less qualifications?

If we don't give our fair women a square deal, we had better quit regarding the Indian with contempt because he leads the procession with an old gun and lets the women bring up the rear carrying all the luggage they can walk under. Some people don't act any better than Indians.

'CHANCE FOR RECIPROCITY.

The Baltimore Sun in discussing the Pan-American congress in session at Rio Janeiro, and our efforts to improve trade relations with South America, says:

"The most brilliant of Republican statesmen, was an aggressive champion of reciprocity between the United States and South America. The late William McKinley, in his last public utterance, pointed out the necessity for enlarging the markets for American products. But since the death of President McKinley no serious effort has been made to enact legislation embodying his recommendations. We have refused to take one step toward reciprocity with Europe. Is there valid reason for the assumption that we will make concessions to South America, so long as there remains in power a party inflexibly opposed to any modification of the tariff?"

The Washington Post commenting upon what the Sun says, remarks:

"The late James G. Blaine, one of 'It is true that Mr. Blaine was an aggressive champion of reciprocity between the United States and South America.' It will be recalled that, in his efforts to inject reciprocity into the McKinley tariff bill after it was sent from the House of Representatives to the Senate, Mr. Blaine smashed a new silk hat in the room of the Senate Committee on Finance. But he carried his point. What he wished was done, and under his preaching Mr. McKinley became a convert to reciprocity."

If they do not be careful these esteemed contemporaries, by making such references, will emphasize the fact that the Republican party has dropped the Blaine idea of building up American commerce. The fact is "the interests," as Col. Bryan's Commoner calls the protected monopolies of the country, captured the Republican party and put the Blaine idea out of commission.

Probably the Pan American congress will open the eyes of Secretary Root to the advantages of reciprocity in order to build up trade with South America. The idea of giving and taking, or the principle of a fair exchange, is quite a natural way to get up a trade with our neighbors. We never heard of one man's selling everything and buying nothing from the man that buys from him. The policy of the Republican party, however, is on that line.

PASSING OF THE STURGEON.

Modern means of catching fish is bringing up serious questions about the disappearance of fish from the Atlantic seaboard and the rivers emptying into the ocean from Maine to Florida. The growing scarcity of the shad, the cod, and other fish, and lobsters, crabs and oysters have given us concern, and even there is alarm lest the sturgeon become extinct. In the Cape Fear the sturgeon catch grows smaller every year, and the same is the case from all along the Atlantic coast.

The opening of the fishing season in the upper Delaware recalls the fact that one of the most famous fish in those waters, the sturgeon, is rapidly disappearing. This has given an opportunity to the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to provide jointly a fishing station at Bristol for the reintroduction of that fish. Long before the revolution Trenton and vicinity was famous as a fishing center. Advertisements at the end of the colonial period show that many of the local market men, in addition to selling salted herring and shad, packed down sturgeon in barrels. The sturgeon was sent to New York and Philadelphia in the ox-team wagons of that time or sent to nearby river points in shallops.

Travelers on the Trenton-Bordentown branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, says a Trenton paper, have noticed a pond lying directly south of the bluff facing Prospect valley. Before the construction of the canal and the railroads 75 years ago this pond directly connected with the Delaware River and was navigable for boats. Fishermen would bring sturgeon into the pond where they were allowed to remain until wanted for use. It is a matter of tradition that a low dam restrained the fish from escaping into the river. The industry of sturgeon fishing continued until well into the memory of many of those now living.

"Senator Tillman denies that he said he could enter a barroom with as much 'reverence as he could a church.' What he did say was that he could enter one with as much 'independence.' The Senator is not a churchman but he has respect and regard for the opinion and feeling of those who are members of churches, so that we felt all along that there was some mistake about what he did say, though we had no right to say so in the absence of his own denial."—Columbia Record.

"The undressed at most of our seaside resorts are more disgusting than the unwashed in our cities. The bathing-suit habit of strolling through streets and public houses far from the beaches is now about to be checked at Asbury Park on Sundays. A man, his wife, his young daughters, and his little boys may one of these reform days be able to sit on the front porch and look across the street, without being blinded by the spectacle of fat women of all ages and spindle-shanked men of all degrees of ill health, hollow-chested, rattle-boned, parading in abbreviated and diaphanous bathing suits. Only girls and matrons of beautiful flesh, divinely fashioned, and men of the type of the Apollo Belvedere should be permitted to go on public exhibition away from the beaches."—New York Press.

And Not Saying a Word.

After a fight on James island, South Carolina, in 1862, there was among the wounded a young fellow suffering intensely and making an unusual amount of noise. General Williams, in command, when passing through the hospital quarters approached the soldier and in a gruff voice asked, "What's the matter with you?" The soldier, pointing to his foot, replied, "I'm wounded." The general said: "Stop your noise! Stop your noise! There are men lying around with their heads knocked off and not saying a word."

His Soft Spot.

A well known Brooklyn minister has a strong objection to the habit some young men have of parting their hair in the middle. The other day when one of his sons came to the breakfast table he noted that offense was given in this respect and inquired rather sarcastically if parting the hair in the middle was not done to conceal the "soft spots" at the sides.

"Maybe so, father," was the retort. "But then I guess your soft spot is right on top of your head."—New York Post.

She Made a Good Guess.

It was at an afternoon tea, and the girl with a bad memory turned cold as two vaguely familiar women greeted her cordially while she stood chatting with a friend. An introduction was obviously expected, not to say imperative.

"So stupid of me to forget your name," she murmured, smiling sweetly, "but I am sure it begins with an 'M,' now doesn't it?" "Almost," returned the other. "It's Emerson."—New York Press.

Cowed the Natives.

Professor Drummond tells in his "Tropical Africa" that on one occasion four of his carriers ran away. There were three of the same tribe in the company, and, though the professor knew nothing of their dialect, he determined, being in danger of losing his life, to teach them a lesson. Beginning with a few general remarks on the heathen, he briefly sketched the geology of Africa and then broke into an impassioned defense of the British constitution. The three tribesmen trembled like aspen leaves. He concluded his reprimand by solemnly enunciating the forty-seventh proposition of Euclid, and the result of the awful admonition was that the men became the most faithful that he had ever had.

An Old Fish Story.

Here is an eighteenth century fish story. It is told in a letter written by a traveler in Russia to a woman in England. A vessel laden with the latest fashions from Paris was run down in the channel of St. Petersburg. "The next day," the writer says, "a salmon was caught in the Neva dressed in a white satin petticoat, and in the same net were found two large cod with muslin handkerchiefs around their necks. The sharks and porpoises were observed in gowns of the latest taste, and hardly was there a fish that did not display some of the freshest Parisian fashions that ever visited the north."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Governor Glenn left the city Sunday morning to attend the encampment at Morehead City, and will return to Raleigh to-night (Wednesday). He will be present at the joint meeting of the Council of State and the Board of Trustees of A. and M. College at the Executive offices Saturday.

—While asleep on the main line of the Southern Railway, two miles south of Salisbury, Bud Foster, colored, was struck and instantly killed by an incoming train on Monday. His heart was literally torn open by the blow from the pilot of the engine which hit him. Foster had with him a suit case filled with whiskey bottles and carried $18 in cash.

—The Raleigh two men whose stores were plundered by the passing National Guardsmen from Virginia last week, have sent their claims to the War Department. It is understood that the men who did the stealing will be detected and severely punished. The Governor of Virginia writes the merchants that they will be reimbursed for the goods taken by Virginia militia.

—The grand jury at Asheville on Monday returned a true bill against Ed. Graham for burglary. Graham will be tried for his life on the charge of burglarizing the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Deake, on Charlotte street, one night during May. Graham will probably be placed on trial Wednesday. He is a negro and hails from Lancaster, S. C. He has admitted the crime.

—Raleigh Correspondence Greensboro Industrial News, July 29th: "It is announced to-night that Wake county Republicans will hold a great mass meeting next Saturday, August 4, when a proper presentation will be made concerning party possibilities in this part of the State. The regular Republican convention will be held two weeks thereafter, August 18."

—Sunday morning the Universalist church lately built in Greenville was dedicated by Dr. D. B. Clayton and Rev. Thomas Chapman. The church was named the Delphia Moyer Chapel, in memory of Mrs. S. A. Moyer, through whose efforts the building was erected and who died about the time of its completion. After the dedication of the building, a church was organized, eight persons uniting with the membership.

—Raleigh News and Observer: Hon. Kemp P. Battle, professor of History at the University of North Carolina, is writing a history of the University of North Carolina. The manuscript of volume one is ready for the printer. It will deal with the history from the beginning in 1789 to the death of President Swain in 1868. The second volume will be from 1868 to the present time. Dr. Battle has been connected, more or less intimately with the University all his life. He knows its history, its spirit, its traditions, and his history will be a valuable and interesting work.

—Oxford Special, July 30: The suit against the Seaboard Railroad brought by Lillian Sizemore and Mamie Moore was compromised to-day. Lillian Sizemore, who lost her right arm in the accident last April, receives six thousand dollars. Mamie Moore, who was knocked off the trestle, receives eight hundred and fifty dollars. Ex-Judge A. W. Graham and Gen. B. S. Royster represented the Seaboard, while ex-Judge R. W. Winston and Messrs. A. A. Hicks and W. H. Harrison appeared for the children.

—Miss Vergie Jenkins, a well-known and highly respected young lady of Salisbury, was the victim of a vicious assault late Saturday night at the hands of a stranger who slipped up behind her on the street and dealt her a fearful blow in the forehead with a pair of knuckles. The blow came without warning or provocation and Miss Jenkins was knocked down and dazed for the time. She was accompanied by a younger sister and a gentleman who attempted to knock the villain down, but the latter escaped in great haste. Officers later arrested a man giving his name as Mauney, who is suspected of being guilty of the crime, but there is some doubt as to the identity of the man.

—Raleigh News and Observer: State Biologist Gerald McCarthy stated yesterday that the city should close every private open well or public pump in the city within ten feet of any stable or residence. This statement was caused by a question asked Mr. McCarthy by a reporter relative to the physician's analysis of the water from a well on New Bern avenue just north of Swain street. This well is dangerously polluted, and Mr. McCarthy attributed much of the sickness of that neighborhood to the water from this well. Two deaths have recently occurred in that vicinity, and Engineer C. R. King, of the Department of Agriculture, who had the water analyzed by the State Biologist, said yesterday that in both instances the persons used the water from this well.

—At Raleigh on Monday the Secretary of State chartered the Bull Durham Tobacco Company, at Durham, George R. Blackwell, W. A. Guthrie and William B. Guthrie, stockholders, to cure leaf, buy, manufacture and sell tobacco in any and all forms, to buy or otherwise acquire trade-marks, capital stock $100,000. The granting of this charter is another step in the suit of the Blackwells and their friends against the American Tobacco Company, which is manufacturing the Durham goods under the New Jersey charter. The Blackwells claim that the American Tobacco Company which absorbed the former Blackwell Company, forfeited its right to the old charter and leaves the road clear for the recharter of the company.

—Lexington special July 30: It has just become known here that Earl Wyatt, former running mate of Nat Crump, the outlaw, was shot last week in Boone township. Wyatt was put off the county roads, where he had finished a two-years' sentence, and was visiting Boone, where he had lived. He was going along the road at night when some one shot him from ambush, the bullet entering his leg. He immediately came to Lexington and took a train for foreign parts, stating that he feared Nat Crump was the party who, having designs on his life, had fired the shot. Wyatt was given two years for being with Crump here in Lexington and resisting and fleeing from officers, who sought to arrest them on a charge of retelling.

—Durham is stirred up over the report that a man by the name of Corbett, who has lived in Durham since May, has fallen heir to fabulous wealth, inherited from an uncle who died in San Francisco last month. Corbett has employed attorneys and a thorough investigation is being made. It seems that Corbett received a letter nearly a month ago notifying him that he was one of four heirs to an estate estimated to be worth eighty-five million dollars. The story is that on June 11, of this year, Daniel A. Corbett, single, died at his home in San Francisco, leaving his entire estate to three nephews and a niece. This matter reached James A. Corbett in a letter purporting to be from a probate judge, in which he was told something of the wealth and how the money was invested. Since his arrival in Durham Corbett has been working for the American Tobacco Company. The fact that a poor working man is reputed to have jumped from his humble position in the working world to a man worth $21,000,000, has caused a great deal of talk.

—Albemarle special, July 30: The freight train on the Yadkin railroad, running between Norwood and Salisbury was wrecked early this morning about one and a half miles south of this place. Seven freight cars were torn up and the caboose was derailed. The engine did not turn over, but was derailed and disabled so that it could not be moved until a wrecking crew reached here from Spencer. The rails spread, rotten ties being the prime cause of the whole trouble. This is by no means the first wreck on this line. The railroad company was informed by wire that the whole crew would quit the road unless the roadbed was repaired, the same being considered dangerous. The condition of this line was called to the attention of the Corporation Commission some time ago and the company promised to make the necessary repairs, nothing has been done south of here to this date. Repairs are badly needed all along the line.

—Raleigh News and Observer, July 29: Mr. Norman H. Johnson, attorney general of the Retail Merchants' Association of North Carolina, leaves to-day for Kingston, where he will deliver a special address before the merchants and men of enterprise of that town to-morrow night. The meeting of the merchants will be held in the Kingston Industrial Club Hall, and there is every indication of a large attendance. Mr. Johnson will outline the work as it has been planned by the association of North Carolina and will fill many appointments of a special nature in other points within the State. The merchants throughout the State are very much interested in securing better freight rates, cheaper insurance and an equitable collection law. All of these subjects will be dealt with by Mr. Johnson in turn, and the specific purpose of the organization will be in many ways demonstrated. The North Carolina association has come to be the strongest in all the South, and practically every town in the State is affiliated with the movement.

—Winston-Salem Special, July 30: In an interview to-day with Captain O. H. P. Cornell, Chief Engineer of the Southbound Railroad, it was learned that rights of way are retarding the construction work on the road more than anything else. Captain Cornell stated that it had been decided to make the grade six-tenths of one per cent, which will make it the best in the State and one of the finest in the South. From the chief engineer it was learned that it had been decided to build the road via Whitney instead of New London, as first proposed. This change was made in order to get the grade desired. The building of the road to Wadesboro is assured. Captain Cornell says that as soon as the rights of way are secured work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. He has called for bids for the construction of bridges across the Yadkin River, Rocky River, Abbott's Creek, Flat Swamp, Lick Creek and Cabin Creek. In addition he is asking for bids for the construction of about 10,000 cubic yards of concrete bridge masonry together with the necessary coffer dams and excavations. This work is for a long trestle across Salem Creek.

CHANGES AT SOUTHERN.

Several Announced at Meeting of Directors Yesterday—Promotions.Mr. W. B. Drake, formerly teller, was yesterday elected assistant cashier of the Southern National Bank, to take effect to-day. The business of the bank has grown so rapidly that the directors thought best to elect an assistant cashier, hence their action at the regular meeting held yesterday.
Mr. Drake is at present at his home in Bennettsville, S. C., on his vacation and will not assume his new position until next Monday, when he returns to the city.At this meeting other changes were announced by the officers as follows:
Mr. L. E. Covington, who has been with the bank since it began business, as head bookkeeper, was recently given a fine farm and residence by his father, Mr. R. R. Covington, of Laurinburg, on condition that he would return to the old home and go into business for himself. He accepted the proposition and notified the bank officials, asking to be released September 1st.Also Mr. E. H. Gorham, who has ac-ceptably filled the position of assistant bookkeeper for several months, has been promoted to higher duties in the Newbern Banking & Trust Co., now organizing at Newbern, and will go to his new field September 1st. These vacancies will be filled by the Southern before September 1st, when the above named gentlemen leave; in fact, several applications are now being considered.The Southern National will part with Messrs. Covington and Gorham with regret. Both are efficient and desirable bank men and young gentlemen who have made themselves very popular with the bank officials and with Wilmington people generally.
The promotion of Mr. Drake is well merited. He is a young man of exceedingly affable and pleasant manners, and an experienced bank officer, having been cashier of the Planters' National Bank, of Bennettsville, before coming to the Southern.

THE ANDERSON TRIAL.

Defendant Taxed With Cost in One Case, Takes an Appeal.

The case of Mr. Chas. Anderson, proprietor of the Delmonico Cafe, charged with interfering with Officer J. W. Smith in the discharge of his duty and committing an assault by pushing the same person, was tried yesterday at noon by Justice George Harriss to whom the case was transferred by Justice Furlong, who preferred not to pass upon the question inasmuch as Mr. Smith was an officer of his court. Mr. Smith was represented in the prosecution by William J. Bellamy, Esq., while Mr. Anderson's counsel was C. De Weeks, Esq. On the charge of interfering with the officer, Mr. Anderson was found not guilty. He was taxed with the cost upon the charge of an assault on the officer, from which judgment the defendant took an appeal. The case will now come up in the Superior Court.

Derivation of Phrases.
Next to Shakespeare we draw most profusely from the Bible for terse expressions, Proverbs and Ecclesiastes furnishing the larger proportion from the Old Testament and St. Paul's epistles from the New. Milton, though far behind these two great sources of English speech, gives us more familiar expressions than any other writer after them. From him we have learned to speak of "a dim religious light," of "grim death," "a heaven on earth" and "sanctity of reason," of "adding fuel to the flames," of "tempering justice with mercy," of the "busy hum of men," "the light fantastic toe" (that boon to provincial reporters) and the "neat-handed Phyllis." Chaucer, though rich in material for quotation, has given us no pithy phrases; but from Spenser, who sang of him as the "well of English undefeiled," we get "nor rhyme nor reason," "by hook or crook,"
"sweet attractive grace" and "through thick and thin."—Chambers' Journal.Color Schemes in Building.
Strange how little we Americans do with color. We have a red brick house or a yellow brick house with a red tile roof or a green roof, and that's about the gamut we run. Most beautiful effects can be gained by the use of enameled colors even on flat surfaces; dainty patterns can be worked out and brilliant yet harmonious effects gained.

RESENTS BRYAN'S CHARGE OF FRAUD

National Committeeman Sullivan, of Illinois, Requested by Nebraskan to Resign.

THE DEMAND IS RESENTED

Bryan Says Sullivan is Not Fit for Democrats to Associate With—Sullivan Flatly Refuses to Resign Position.

Chicago, July 31.—Judge Owen P. Thompson, of Jackson, Ill., announced this afternoon that in a letter dated July 17, Wm. J. Bryan requested that Judge Thompson call upon Mr. Roger Sullivan with a message from Mr. Bryan requesting that Mr. Sullivan, in the interest of harmony, at once resign as National Committeeman from Illinois. Judge Thompson says he saw Mr. Sullivan to-day and delivered Mr. Bryan's message. Mr. Sullivan declined to resign as requested. Judge Thompson thereupon made public a letter from Mr. Bryan declaring that National Committeeman Sullivan holds the office by a fraud and that it is impossible for honest Democrats to associate with Mr. Sullivan as a member of the National Committee. Mr. Bryan's letter is as follows:

"We are approaching another National campaign and our party's chances depend upon its ability to convince the public of its good intentions. Mr. Sullivan's presence on the committee contradicts all that we can say in the party's behalf. His corporate connections would harm the party far beyond his power to aid the organization but this could be left for some future convention to deal with if he were actually the choice of the Democrats. The fact, however, that he holds his office by a fraud and against the expressed wishes of a majority of the delegates to the State convention makes it impossible for honest Democrats to associate with him as a member of the committee. If we do not maintain the right of the majority to control party policy and select the party's representatives, for what can we contend? I am sorry that your convention meets before I return for I would be glad to come to Illinois to give you any assistance within my power. I have avoided taking part in personal contests within the party, but when any one who calls himself a Democrat assaults the rights of the party I do not hesitate to take part in the fight. I had hoped that he would resign in the interests of harmony, but his refusal leaves us no choice but to repudiate him or abandon Democratic principles."

Mr. Sullivan in reply to Mr. Bryan's letter gave out the following statement tonight:

"Mr. Bryan says I hold my seat on the Democratic National Committee by fraud. That seat came to me by virtue of a vote of 49 to 5 in my favor. It is one to which a Democratic National Committee declared I was entitled. If I am unfit to associate with honest Democrats, as Mr. Bryan says, then men who stood by me are also, and surely Mr. Bryan cannot accept a nomination which must come if it does come, from the men who decided that I was fit and that Dunlap Thompson and the Jackson convention were not only unfit but had lied, slandered and vilified, not myself alone, but the majority of the delegates who sat in the Springfield convention of 1904 and by virtue of whose votes I hold my office. If even I were willing to resign as requested, I could not so under present conditions. If I did, after the charges which Mr. Bryan makes, I would be declaring not only that I was guilty of fraud but that three-fourths of the Democratic leaders in the country were equally guilty."

A special from Savannah, Ga., to the Augusta Chronicle yesterday, says: "The Greene and Gaynor case has been appealed to the United States Circuit Court. The transcript was forwarded yesterday to Charles H. Ledrum, of New Orleans, clerk of the court. The main ground named therein was the modus procedendi of the drawing of the jury. There are a number of other grounds upon which the appeal is made."

NEW RATE LAWS AND RAILROAD

Sixty-four Officials Conferring With Inter-State Commerce Commission About It.

WILL OBEY REGULATIONS

Railroad Men Ask For Time to Carry Law Into Effect and Request Some Modifications in Certain Rules.

Washington, July 31.—An important informal conference between the Interstate Commerce Commission and representatives of the Western Trunk Line Association, and the traffic officials of various Southern and South-eastern Railroads, took place here to-day. It related to the construction to be placed by the Commission on the recently enacted railroad rate law. While no conclusions were reached, both the railroad men and the Commission regard the conference as profitable because it has brought them into touch as to the various phases of the law and will enable each to better understand the position of the other. Chairman Knapp and Commissioners Clements and Cockrell were in attendance on the conference at which the railroads were represented by 64 of the most important freight and passenger traffic officials of the lines interested, among them being J. M. Gulp, of the Southern Railway, and Darin Miller, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

At the outset the railroad officials made clear their intention to comply with the new law without unnecessary bickering. They desired, however, to arrive at some understanding with the Interstate Commerce Commission as to the best way to meet the requirements of the law and of the Commission. They pointed out that in some instances technical compliance with the law would be futile and they asked the Commission to assist them by placing a broad construction on parts of the act. In brief, the railroad officials made three general requests of the Commission.

First. That a reasonable extension of time be given them to prepare and publish and file with the Commission their new tariff schedules under the law. In this connection they asked also that the book containing the rates might be left with each station agent instead of being posted at the station.

Second. That the requirements of a notice of 30 days in changes be eliminated, particularly as to import and export traffic. It was pointed out that often these rates had to be changed within a few hours to meet the exigencies of transportation and that it practically would be impossible to anticipate these changes even by one day, not to mention thirty days.

Third. That the railroads be relieved from the publication of terminal rates at points of destination and allowed to publish them only at the point where the changes originate. This would make no difference in the rates themselves but would be a matter of convenience to the roads. The passenger traffic officials requested the Commission not to insist upon the filing of new rates at this time, as their rates under the new law would be precisely the same, for a time at least, as they are now, and the present rates are on file with the Commission. The conference will be continued to-morrow.

ARMY DRILL AT CHICAMAUGA.

South Carolina Has Two Notable Companies in Camp.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) Chattanooga, Tenn., July 31.—The day at Chickamauga Park to-day was devoted to drills. The work was done in squadron formation, in infantry by battalion in extended order. Instruction in signalling hospital first aid and camp construction was given to signal service men, the hospital force and the engineer detachment. The field hospital, which was shipped thirteen days ago from Washington, has arrived and been put in position ready for calls. Among the noted companies here are Companies D and C, of the Third South Carolina, both of Charleston. The first, the German Fusiliers was organized in 1775, and the second, the Irish Volunteers, in 1780.

MR. BRYAN WILL OUTLINE PLANS

His Madison Square Garden Speech Will Be Notable Effort—Will Outline Campaign Issues.

(New York Herald, 30th.)

William J. Bryan, it was announced last night, desires it to be known that he will outline his conception of the issues upon which the next Democratic National Convention should be fought in his Madison Square Garden speech on August 30. It intends to give a great deal of thought to this speech, which is expected to be one of the most notable efforts of his public career.

This is the official programme of the Bryan reception, as announced yesterday at the headquarters of the reception executive committee, at the Victoria Hotel.

Mr. Bryan will be met at the Battery on the afternoon of August 30 by the members of the reception committee in carriages. He will enter a carriage in which will be Governor Folk, of Missouri, chairman of the reception committee; Tom L. Johnson, Mayor of Cleveland, and possibly some other prominent Democrat.

Headed by the Bryan carriage, the procession will move up Broadway to Fifty-ninth street, thence to Seventh avenue and down Seventh avenue and Broadway to the Victoria Hotel.

Mr. Bryan will meet the Democratic leaders who will be in the city to welcome him at the hotel, and will dine there. In the evening he will be escorted to Madison Square Garden for the reception.

Governor Folk will call the meeting in the Garden to order and will make a speech, after which he will introduce Mayor Johnson to preside. Augustus Thomas will deliver an address of welcome on behalf of the Commercial Travellers' Anti-Trust League, which took the initiative in planning the reception. Mr. Bryan will then deliver his oration on the Democratic issues of 1906.

All the Democratic members of both Houses of Congress, all the members of the National Democratic Committee, all Democratic mayors, all Democratic Governors and other distinguished Democrats have been invited. It was stated that Lewis Nixon, the chairman of the plan and scope committee, had sent out these invitations and that as a result more than nine hundred replies have been received accepting and that not a negative reply had thus far been received.

Word was received at the Victoria Hotel yesterday afternoon from the treasurer of the reception committee, Alexander Troup, of New Haven, in regard to the popular subscriptions for Mr. Bryan's reception that the subscriptions had been pouring in upon him and will be in the end all that Mr. Bryan expected on the score of the number who are contributing and the willingness to give a dollar toward the cause.

These dollar subscriptions, Mr. Troup says, are coming in from all parts of the country, and he wants the contributors to understand that he will give to each a receipt for the contribution and see to it that the names of all are made known.

The executive committee of the Commercial Travellers' League will have a meeting at the Hotel Victoria next Thursday afternoon to further perfect arrangements.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, July 31.—The cotton market was very quiet during the day's session with quotations narrow and irregular. The close was steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of four points. Sales were estimated at 60,000 bales. The market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of three points on the old crop, but 1 to 4 points higher on the new, which was influenced by steadier cables than looked for and support from some of the room traders, who were evidently trying to force a reaction. But the advance was quickly checked by the appearance of a bearish private crop condition report showing a deterioration in condition for the month of July about 1 1/2 per cent. and the market eased off to a net loss of about 1 to 2 points on the active months. Later, prices were steadied by scattered covering and a little buying attributed to spot people against sales for future delivery. August showed the greatest gain and December and January were 1 point lower. Further private condition reports are expected to-morrow and the government report is due on Friday. The weekly weather bureau was without feature and had no influence on the market.

Receipts at the ports to-day 6,894 bales against 6,055 last week and 12,476 last year. For the week 30,000 bales against 29,092 last week and 73,620 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 1,374 bales against 1,309 last year, and at Houston 640 bales against 4,219 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 10.90; middling gulf 11.15; sales 900 bales. Futures closed steady and prices ranged as follows:

Month.	Open.	Close.
July	9.86	9.86

REAL SEA SERPENTS.

Giant Ribbon Fish With Red Plumes and Heavy Manes.

An interesting form of the sea serpent is the so called ribbon fish, several specimens of which the writer has seen on the shores of Santa Catalina island. This creature is one of the most beautiful of all fishes. It resembles a white or silver ribbon slashed with black. A long fin extends its entire length, and over the head form a number of plumes or pomps of a vivid red that in long specimens might easily be taken for a mane waving to and fro.

That this delicate ribbon fish attains a very large size is generally believed, as good sized specimens have been captured. Some years ago a fisherman was hauling a net on the coast of Scotland when it was found that some heavy weight was holding the net back. Additional help was obtained, and a dozen men finally hauled in a monster fish, which was estimated to weigh 800 pounds. It was a gigantic ribbon fish, thirty feet or more in length, so long and heavy that it required the efforts of half a dozen men to carry it along the deck.

It was a veritable sea serpent, and extending from its head were tall, deep red or scarlet plumes, like fins, which formed a sort of mane, frequently described as being seen on the typical sea serpent. If these fishes attain a length of thirty feet there is no reason why they may not exceed this, and it is very possible that some of the "sea serpents" which have been observed at various times were gigantic ribbon fishes, which came up from the deep sea and moved along with undulating motion at the surface. One of the most remarkable as well as gigantic animals of the deep sea is the giant squid, a favorite tidbit of the sperm whale.

The size to which these animals grow, their strength and their hideous appearance place them on a par with many of the weird and grotesque creatures of a past age. The squid undoubtedly attains a length of nearly if not over 100 feet.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

To Make Paper Pads.

Very many persons would like to know how to pad sheets of paper so as to make tablets, but do not understand the proper composition for putting on the edges. The following recipe is vouched for by competent authority: Glue, four pounds; glycerin, two pounds; linseed oil, one-half pound; sugar, one-quarter pound; aniline dyes in sufficient quantity to color. The glue is softened by soaking it in a little cold water, then dissolved, together with the sugar, in the glycerin by aid of heat over a water bath. To this the dyes are added, after which the oil is well stirred. It is used hot. Another composition of a somewhat similar nature is prepared as follows: Glue, a pound; glycerin, four ounces; glucose sirup, about two tablespoonfuls; tannin, one-tenth of an ounce. Give the compositions an hour or more in which to dry or set before cutting or handling the pads.

A great criminal lawyer in New York, Mr. B., has a rich and lovely client, who is famous for her extremely naughty manner.

This noted beauty had run down a poor old woman in her auto and was arrested.

"Oh, Mr. B., do you think you will be able to get me out of this?" she asked piteously.

"Yes, indeed," said he, with a twinkle in his eye. "I'll prove conclusively to the jury that from the hour of your birth you've never been able to see any one worth less than $100,000."—Harper's Weekly.

Reed's Ride "Round the Horn."

Tom Reed, accompanied by William Bryant, a well known politician in Waltham, took a Watertown branch (Fitchburg railroad) train one evening for the Watch City, where he was booked to speak at a Republican rally. It was Reed's first experience going "around the horn." Stop after stop was made, and finally the brakeman sang out: "Bleachery! Bleachery! The next station is Chemistry!"

"Say, Bill," drawled Reed, "this train is taking a regular high school course."—Boston Herald.

The passenger who had come into the street car last found himself regarding with some interest the exceedingly red nose of the man sitting opposite. The owner of the nose also appeared to find it out, for he leaned forward presently and said, with evident irritation: "I know what you're lookin' at." "I beg your pardon?" "I say I know what you're lookin' at, and it ain't what you think it is at all. It's erysipelas. And what's more, it's none of your business anyhow!"

ROOSEVELT'S DOLLAR FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Thinks Plan of Congressional Committee Admirable.
Senator Dick Promises Ohio Will Stand for Roosevelt's Administration, and Stand Pat.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 31.—Senator Charles Dick, of Ohio, and Elmer Dower, secretary of the Republican National Committee, made a joint pilgrimage to Sagamore Hill to-day. President Roosevelt discussed with them for two hours the political situation in Ohio. Aside from the advantages of the discussion, the simple fact that Dick was a guest at Sagamore Hill and came away with a desire for harmony in the coming Congressional campaign, is regarded as encouraging. It has been said in Ohio that Senators Foraker and Dick did not stand for the Roosevelt administration and this report bids fair to cause at least a degree of trouble. It has now been "nailed to the mast," if these words from Senator Dick have meaning. "It is safe to make one prediction that President Roosevelt's administration and the work of Congress will receive sincere and enthusiastic endorsement in the Ohio Republican platform." As indicating the part President Roosevelt took in the conference, Senator Dick said:

"The President is very greatly interested in the result of the Congressional election and he does not hesitate to say so. Rightfully, he feels that he has inaugurated policies which he is hopeful of concluding successfully. This can only be accomplished with the help of a Republican majority in the Sixteenth Congress. The President is ready to do all he can to bring about a Republican victory in the coming campaign. This does not mean that he is going on the stump—he could not do that—it does not necessarily mean that he is to mingle in local conferences (but he will have a keen general interest in the result and will aid in all possible ways.)"

Besides this strong endorsement of the President with which the Ohio platform is to be featured there is to be a standpat declaration regarding the tariff. General Dick expressed himself freely on the point. "It would be practically impossible for the Sixteenth Congress to revise the tariff," he remarked, "besides it would be decidedly bad political sense. There has never been an exception to the occurrence that when a political party in control of Congress undertook to revise the tariff two years preceding a national election it failed to elect its candidates in that election."

The Republican party, he said, would go before the people pointing to its record with pride.

Teddy's Dollar for Success.
New York, July 31.—President Roosevelt has contributed one dollar to the Republican National Committee's campaign fund. The contribution was sent in response to a general appeal for one dollar contributions. Chairman Sherman, of the Congressional Committee, to-day made public the President's letter enclosing his contribution to the fund. The letter follows:

"Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 25, 1906.
"Dear Mr. Sherman—I have your letter of the 24th instant and enclosed I send my dollar. I think it an admirable plan and I congratulate you upon the success that bids fair to attend the movement.

AUTOMOBILE FLEW UP MOUNTAIN SIDE

Big Machine in Perilous Dash Ran Three Miles and Quarter in Less Than 52 Seconds to the Mile.
Exposition Town.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Bretton Woods, N. H., July 31.—The motor vehicle meeting in the White Mountains closed to-day with the hill climbing contest in which thirty cars competed in eight events. Some fast times were made, but there were many half-breadth escapes in the 3 1/4-mile run up the narrow road of the Crawford Notch from the Willey House to the Crawford House lawn. The best time was made by Guy Vaughn's thirty-horse power gasoline car, which covered the distance in two minutes and 48 seconds.

While waiting for the hill-climbing contests to finish, there was considerable discussing among the automobilists regarding next year's tour of the American Automobile Association, and the proposed run from Boston to Jamestown, Va., in order to bring the tourists to the Southern city in time for the exposition, seemed to meet with general favor. It is generally understood that a committee will look over the Boston-Jamestown route. It is planned to send the cars from Boston through Worcester, Springfield, New York, Philadelphia, the battlefield of Gettysburg, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, and with two or three side trips in Virginia are planned to bring the tour up to 1,200 miles. The Southern members of the association are very anxious to have the tour in that direction, and it is expected that the Glidden contest will be held next year in either May or June.

Three days after the primary election in the Democratic ranks of Texas to decide the race for party nominee for Governor and other State officials.

the results finds T. M. Campbell, the Union labor candidate in the lead in the primary vote. M. M. Brooks and O. B. Clougett, the other two candidates for Governor, will go to the convention in the order named. No candidate has as yet received enough votes to make him the primary nominee and the contest for the nomination will have to be fought in the State convention, which meets in Dallas on August 14. W. D. Williams, the Granger candidate, for railroad commissioner at this time, seems to have defeated L. Storey, the present incumbent.

NEGRO LYNCHED IN ATLANTA.

Shot to Death in Suburb for Nameless Crime.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)
Atlanta, Ga., July 31.—Floyd Carmichael, a negro about 22 years old, who was identified by Miss Annie Poole, of Lakewood, a suburb of Atlanta, as the man who had assaulted her early to-day, was shot in front of the Poole residence, in sight of his victim, this afternoon by a posse which had captured him. After the shooting there were more cries of "burn him," but the county police arrived at this time and prevented such action. About 10 o'clock this morning while returning from a visit to her brother, Miss Annie Poole, 15 years old, daughter of J. K. L. Poole, was attacked by the negro and choked into unconsciousness. When the alarm was given a posse quickly formed, but it was not until late in the afternoon that the negro was captured and brought into Miss Poole's presence, who immediately identified him, crying "That's him."

NEGRO'S PROGRESS IN FORTY-ONE YEARS

Bishop Gaines Says Race Has Accumulated Two Billions of Property and Fifty Per Cent Can Read and Write.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, July 31.—The negro Young Peoples' Christian and Educational Congress, having for its object the educational and moral uplifting of the race, began a five-day session in this city to-day. Several thousand delegates are in attendance, representing every State in the Union, and some have come from foreign lands. The first day's session was devoted to address of welcome and speech-making. Bishop Westley J. Gaines, D. D., of Atlanta, and Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte being the principal speakers. Booker T. Washington is expected Thursday or Friday. The meeting opened with 1,000 voices singing and was followed by prayer by Rev. M. W. Waldron, of Jacksonville, Fla.

In his quadrannual address, Bishop Gaines, who presided over the Congress, spoke of the fact that the negro had been brought through many difficulties and trials since the last meeting in Atlanta four years ago. "We have stood almost on the brink of despair," he said, "but I thank God that in the darkest hour we have been able to gather courage and stand firm in the hope of a future of better understandings and better days." In spite of obstacles, he said, the race had made progress even in four short years.

"In forty-one years of freedom our people have accumulated about two billion dollars worth of property and we have advanced so that more than 50 per cent. of our people can read and write," continued the Bishop. Talking up the question of the attitude of the whites toward the negroes, Bishop Gaines said:

"We have had to submit to the awful humiliation arising from separate car laws on both railroads and trolley lines, but we must not be discouraged. The mob laws, the hangings and the burning at the stake of negroes in many Southern States, though most terrible to reflect upon, must not darken our minds so that we despair. I have said we have made great progress, though we have still a great burden of ignorance, of lawlessness, to carry and to endeavor to destroy as we move upward. Yet I find I can thank God that though we have so many enemies we are not without friends. I must say that we could not stay in this country if it were not for our white friends and their strength of character."

Bishop Gaines then specifically named as avowed enemies of the negro, Senator Tillman, of South Carolina; Governor Vardaman, of Mississippi; Governor Jefferson Davis, of Arkansas; and Thomas Dixon. He added that John Temple Graves could be counted among them "as the most dangerous in group because he is the most highly educated." He said that in an editorial in the Atlanta Georgian of May 10, Mr. Graves had referred to the African negro as a helpless barbarian.

Secretary Bonaparte was then introduced and spoke on the future of the negro race in America. He said that the part it would play in civilization was a question no less difficult than interesting. He did not intend to be a prophet and doubted very much whether anybody could now give more than a crude conjecture about what the "future" have in store for the race and for the country through it. The man who speaks with assurance about such a matter, he said, is probably not worth listening to. "The very fact that he thinks he knows all about it is proof that he knows nothing," he added.

Secretary Bonaparte declared that the negro race was the only one which ever has been able to live with white people.

BIG BATTLESHIPS COLLIDE.

The Illinois and the Alabama Damaged in Heavy Fog.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)
Newport, R. I., July 31.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commanding the Atlantic fleet, received reports in detail of the collision which occurred during a fog last night between the battleship Alabama and Illinois about eight miles southeast of Brenton's Reef Lightship. The side of the Illinois was scraped by the bow of the Alabama and several plates of the forward part of the Alabama were dented. It is thought also that one or more of the six inch guns on the two battleships were damaged. Rear Admiral Evans said tonight that he was satisfied that neither ship was injured below the water line.

Both the first and second divisions of the battleship fleet left Rockport, Mass., Monday morning for Newport. The fleet was making about 8 knots an hour on the run to Newport when the weather turned foggy, and orders were signalled to reduce the speed to five knots and keep the ships 400 yards apart. When the collision occurred, the first division ships were well into Newport harbor, while the second was southeast of the lightship. In the thick fog, the Alabama and Illinois came together at an angle, with the Alabama to starboard. The Alabama hit the Illinois just abreast the forward turret and the bow of the Alabama scraped the side of the Illinois crushing in the rail for some distance.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS BEGIN REVOLUTION

Troops and Sailors at Three Great Sea Fortresses
Seize Artillery and Arms—Bloody Fighting
Ensues—Slain and Wounded Large.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Helsingford, July 31.—A gigantic military conspiracy, aiming at the simultaneous capture of Russia's three great sea fortresses, Cronstadt, Sebastopol and Sveaborg, arranged by the revolutionary military league, was prematurely sprung here last night in an attempt to arrest members of a company of sappers who had mutilated on account of the death of one of their comrades, alleged to have been due to ill treatment. The entire garrison of the fortress at Sveaborg flamed out instantly in revolt. All the artillerymen and sappers garrisoning the place were involved. Only four companies of infantrymen remained loyal. The mutineers seized forty machine guns and practically all the quick firers and light artillery in the fortress, but even with this aid they were unable to hold the main fort against the loyal infantry. The fighting continued all night long. The heavier firing was heard from ten o'clock in the evening until one in the morning.

This morning a detachment of civilian revolutionaries seized the marine barracks on Skadden Island, hoisted the red flag and were joined by all the marines. Nine cruiser torpedo boats and destroyers lying in the harbor opened fire on the barracks. This fire was answered from the third story windows of the barracks with machine guns and rifles.

The torpedo boats and destroyers, which were lying closer to the shore, were subjected to such a hot fire from the barracks that their crews were driven below decks. They finally steamed out and joined in the bombardment with the cruisers. This sea attack was in co-operation with attacks by infantry from the land side, which began at 9 o'clock in the morning and continued through the whole day.

Finally, toward evening the firing ceased and the authorities announced that the barracks had been captured.

At one time the Cossacks cleared the square in front of the palace facing Sveaborg and then drove the public from the entire water front for the purpose of preventing the sending of assistance from the city to Sveaborg. The exact situation at Sveaborg is not known. Rumors are in circulation that the entire fortress has now fallen into the hands of the insurgents, but they lack confirmation. It is believed that the cessation of fighting is but a prelude to the renewal of the battle between the mutineers and the government troops.

An authoritative estimate of the killed and wounded can not be obtained, but the casualties on both sides must be heavy.

There are various rumors to be heard regarding the fate of the officers who were at Sveaborg and in the Skattudden Barracks. According to one rumor almost all the officers and according to another almost all the junior officers, sides with the mutineers.

The marines at Skattudden are said to have convened an elective court martial which condemned several officers to instant execution.

Helsingford, August 1 (1:40 A. M.).—Sveaborg is entirely in the hands of the mutineers, who now have in their possession every kind of armament. Horrible scenes occurred during last night when the fierce fighting was continued. The heaviest artillery was used during the conflict.

PASSENGER FARES REDUCED.

Pennsylvania Railroad Will Make Traveling Much Cheaper.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)
Philadelphia, Pa., July 31.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company to-day announced a reduction of its maximum one way passenger fare from 3 1/2 and 3 cents to 2 1/2 cents. At the same time it was announced that hereafter thousand mile books will be sold for $20, the cash deposit heretofore required being done away with. This action will involve a re-adjustment of all through fares from the South and owing to the vast amount of work entailed by reason of the new rate fare will not become operative for some time probably November 1. It is assumed that the competing lines which reach New York by way of Cincinnati and Louisville will meet the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's reduction by a readjustment of fares so that all Southern passenger traffic whether by way of Washington, Cincinnati or Louisville, will be on an equal basis.

THE HARTJE DIVORCE CASE.

Case Closed for the Libellant Yesterday.

Pittsburg Pa., July 31.—Attorneys for Augustus Hartje, who is seeking a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, somewhat unexpectedly closes to-day. Attorneys for Mrs. Hartje asked for and obtained an adjournment until to-morrow morning to prepare their pleas for putting evidence in rebuttal.

The trial was marked to-day by some vigorous remarks from the bench to attorneys, for Augustus Hartje when they sought to explain through detectives some discrepancies between the detective as evidence and that of Andrew Fisher who became confused yesterday on cross-examination.
